STREET CAR MEN EXEMPT

State Council of Defense Makes Public Order from Provost-Marshal-General Crowder.

Richmond, Oct. 23.—The Virginia Railway and Power company and other traction companies operating within the vicinity of military zones can, by satisfying the national army draft officials that they are essential to the conduct of their business, obtain exemption for any of their employees.

The exemption order goes even further than this—it includes, also those necessary for the maintenance of national interests.

"Concerns engaged in the transportation within cities and along the public highways elsewhere of necessary commodities may claim deferred classification for their necessary employes under the provision of the recent act of congress referring to 'persons engaged in industries, occupations or employments, including agriculture, found to be necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment, or the effective operative of the military forces, or the maintenance of national interest during the emergency.'

"In such cases, as in all others where claim for deferred classification is made on this ground, evidence must be submitted to the district board to show, first, that the particular concern making the claim is necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment, or the effective operation of the military forces, or the maintenance of national interest during the emergency; and, second, that the individual for whom the claim is made is a necessary employe of that concern."

FALL OF VALENCIENNES

Troops Struggle in Streets—French and Belgians Push Nearer Ghent in Attack on 10-Mile Front.

London, Oct. 23.—The Germans have begun to evacuate the Brussels line on the Flanders battle front, said a dispatch to the Sketch today.

Long lines of German transports were seen moving in the direction of Namur.

London, Oct. 23.—Valenciennes, the great rail base 18 miles east of Douai and the same distance northwest of the French fortress of Maubeuge, was entered by the British yesterday. Its penetration seals the doom of the southern part, at least, of the German stop-gap line behind the Scheldt river.

Complete capture of the city was said late last night to be a question of hours, and a crossing in force of the Scheldt will be the immediate consequence. The Germans then must fall back upon the Mons-Maubeuge sector, and there the last round of Armageddon will begin in earnest.

From Valenciennes the Scheldt takes a sharp northeastward turn to Vieux Conde and thence turns abruptly back to the northwest to Mortagne-du-Nord, south of Tournai. Between Mortagne-du-Nord and Tournai the British yesterday pushed their lines to the west bank of the river. They took Bruyello and Hollan, and tonight the stage is being set for the cross-river fight. Already combats are in progress for some of the crossings.

In the triangle between Conde, St. Amand and Valenciennes, picked German troops are desperately battling to retard Haig's progress to the north and south. But if on either side of the triangle a crossing in force is effected, these picked Teutons will have to make a dash for their lives.

Tournai still is the scene of hot house-to-house fighting. Ludendorff is concentrating all his energy on holding up the British in the centre, of which the Valenciennes-Tournai front is the vital one.

In the meantime King Albert's troops are smashing forward, reinforced by stronge French contingents. An attack on a ten-mile front launched early today made material progress toward Ghent.

BAD TEETH AND INSANITY

Bad Molars Often Cause of Derangement, Doctor Finds.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 23.—Insanity is frequently caused by infected teeth whose extraction in most cases effects a permanent cure it was yesterday declared by Dr. Henry A. Colton, medical director of the New Jersey State Hospital for the insane, who has been experimenting eleven years with a success which, he said, proves the solid ground upon which his theory rests.

Inmates of the hospital, nine years have been cured, he declared, by the extraction of infected teeth, removing their tonsils, and, where possible, clearing up the gastro-intestinal tract.

State Commissioner Burgette G. Lewis, to whom the report was sent, said:

"If Dr. Colton's conclusions are found by specialists to be correct, his discoveries are epoch-making.

NURSE SLAPPED PATIENT

Tommy Squirmed During Opetation Which Was Performed Without Anaesthetic.

London, Oct. 23.—Cruelty of German hospital attaches is strikingly shown in the story of an East Surrey soldier who was captured, wounded and operated on in a German hospital without application of an anaesthetic.

"I was taken to the Zerbst prison hospital," he says. "There was shrapnel in my elbow. I thought I should bleed to death before I was attended.

"Four or five Germans held me on the operating table when my case was finally attended and the doctor cut around the elbow to get out the bullets. I wriggled with the pain, for I had been given chloroform, and a nurse struck me across the face.

"The Germans used paper bandages and gave us cardboard hats and boots. The men returning from the salt mines were wearing rags and the salt had gotten into sores on their feet and caused them great agony."

GERMANS IN RUSSIA

Agents Openly Spreading Terrorism And Bloodshed in New Quarters Daily.

Terrorism and bloodshed in Russia are increasing at a terrible rate and spreading to new quarters almost daily, as the Bolsheviki leaders grow more and more furious over their wasting power. Restraint after restraint is thrown off by the pro-Germans and Kaiser agents as vast Russia struggles to shake herself free.

This much has been called out as fact from official and other reliable sources. And in the mass of reports and rumors that pour into London are horrible details of the reign of terror.

It is officially known that the Bolshevik and German forces are now openly working together, largely under German command.

According to the circumstantial details received the loyal Soviet at Ekaterinburg is responsible for the killing of the former Czarina and her daughters.

In the case of the Czar, the local Soviet is reported to have received authority from the Central Bolsheviki Government to "do what you like with him." And they executed him.

However the local Soviet asked no authority for killing the rest of the family. The story says the Soviet took the Czarina and her daughters one night to a lonely house north of Ekaterinburg and set fire to the house. The reports are silent as to whether the women were killed before the house was fired, or whether they were burned alive.

But the reports include statements of certain persons established as more or less reliable, that they had seen the charred remains which were identified, among other ways, by crown jewels.

It is now taken as a fact in London that the Czar was executed and every day adds to the belief of officials that his family was murdered.

The fate of the Czaravitch and his whereabouts are absolute mystery. He may also become another "Austrian Archduke," case. Of all phases of the present reign of terror the recent Government advices are least enlightening as to what has become of the Czarevitch.

German propagandists have convinced Russia that Paris has been occupied and England taken by Germany. With this idea fixed in the mind of the Russian people, the advantages of an armistice to the Central Powers are apparent. Russia would be convinced that the war had ended in favor of the Central Powers and Germany would secure an unshakable grip on the big Slav nation.

JOINT SESSION IS HELD

Council Unable to Get Together for Election of Health Officer—Session Also Fails on Election of One Police Commissioner From Second Ward—Seven School Trustees Chosen.

A joint session of the city council last night failed to reach a decision on the election of a city health officer and after a prolonged discussion the election was deferred until the next meeting of city council.

When the joint session was called to order by F. F. Marbury president of the board of aldermen, H. R. Burke, president of the common council, stated that there had been considerable discussion regarding the election of a health officer, and he added that he did not know of a single candidate for the office.

Mr. Burke said the idea prevails here that there should be a full time health officer.

He said that in discussing the matter with Dr. W. L. Wood, special state health officer and also of the United States Public Health Service, who now has an office in this city, Dr. Wood told him he would serve as health officer for Alexandria without compensation provided, however, council would give him an assistant. Mr. Burke added that Dr. Wood thought the services of an assistant could be obtained for $1,800 a year. Mr. Burke also suggested that the health officer be made physician to the poor.

The present salary for health officer is $1,000 a year and the assistant or deputy gets $400 a year.

Alderman Summers wanted to know if the law does not require the health officer to be a resident and also a taxpayer and voter.

A general debate followed in which Aldermen Ballenger, Harrison and Summers and Councilmen Fletcher, Sullivan, Batcheller, Ruben, Baggett, and others participated.

Seven school trustees were chosen, three to fill vacancies and four others whose terms had expired were chosen without opposition.

For trustee in the first ward to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of L. H. Thompson, E. S. Leadbeater and W. S. Connelly were nominated and Mr. Leadbeater elected over Mr. Connelly by a vote of 14 to 7.

W. H. F. Finke was chosen trustee from the second ward to fill the vacancy caused by the death of S. L. Monroe.

James Bayne was elected trustee from the third ward without opposition to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Carroll Pierce.

Other trustees who were re-elected without opposition follow:

C. R. Yates, first ward; S. H. Lunt second ward; H. M. Colvin, third ward; T. Calvert Perry, fourth ward.

Joshua Sherwood was re-elected keeper of the city alms house without opposition.

There was an interesting race for police commissioner from the second ward between E. E. Knight, incumbent and James F. Peyton. Three ballots were taken without results. The vote each time was: Knight, eleven, and Peyton, ten. The election of a commissioner from this ward therefore went over until the next meeting.

George H. Schwarzmann was re-elected commissioner from the third ward over John J. Bayne by a vote of 18 to 3.

Common council also ran into a snag in endeavoring to elect a councilman from the first ward to fill a vacancy caused by the declination of George E. Warfield to serve. Councilman Ruben nominated E. F. Ticer and Councilman McCaffrey nominated Captain W. L. Davis. Four ballots were taken without result. Each time the vote was: Ticer, 8; Davis 5. Subsequently the same candidates were placed in nomination and Mr. Ticer was elected, receiving 9 votes to Capt. Davis 1. It required a two-third vote of the entire membership to elect.

A resolution appropriating $38,000 for the public schools for 1918 and 1919, received from the board of aldermen, was received and referred to the joint committee on finance and schools.

Communication from the General Realty Corporation asking the city to take over certain streets and avenues in the new subdivision being built directly east of Rosemont was referred to joint committee on streets, finance and general laws.

Resolution for temporary loan of $75,000 to tide city over for the fiscal year was laid over under the rules.

Resolution of Councilman Burke instructing health committee to confer with corporation attorney relative to appointment of health officer and assistant was adopted.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

All the members of the upper branch of Council were present last night. The papers acted upon at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council were received and their action concurred in.

President Marbury, to whom had been referred the matter of a stand for the automobiles engaged in the transportation of passengers to and from Camp Humphreys, made a verbal report, in which he said that he had ascertained that officers from the camp had fixed upon the southeast corner of King and Pitt streets as the proper place. These officers had examined King street from Fayette to Fairfax, and it was their opinion that the present is the proper site. He also stated that should the authorities order its removal to any other point the officers who selected the present place would remove the stand from the city.

By a vote of seven to one the paper which was received from the Common Council several weeks ago was laid upon the table indefinitely.

The other business transacted was of a general nature.

The board, after participating in a joint session with the Common Council, adjourned.

FIFTH LIBERTY LOAN

Treasury Predicts Another Issue Although Peace Signed.

The Fifth Liberty Loan will come in the early spring.

With the statement from the Treasury Department that the fourth loan "was oversubscribed," comes the announcement that the fifth loan will be floated in either March or April. The drive will be made, even if peace should be declared before spring, as war costs will only decrease gradually and must be met with another bond issue, it was said.

Figures as to the actual oversubscription have not been compiled by the Treasury Department. Final reports from the banks are due at Federal Reserve Banks by Thursday and this should mean that the figures could be made public on Friday. Until then all estimates are being withheld.

COLD WAVE ON WAY

Taste of Winter Will be Given the East About Friday.

An early taste of winter is about to be given the country from coast to coast. A special bulletin from the Weather Bureau yesterday says there will be a decided change to cooler within 36 hours in the Plains States and the Eastern Rocky Mountains region, extending by Thursday to the Mississippi Gulf States, and by Thursday night or Friday to the Middle Atlantic, New England, South Atlnatic and East Gulf States.

BRIDE OF DAY, FOURTEEN, TRIES TO END LIFE.

St. Louis, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Lola Dedes, fourteen years old, bride of five days, tried to end her life by taking poison at her home. She told the police at the City Hospital that she and Nicholas Dedes, thirty-four years old, were married last Saturday, and that he left her the next day.

A note written by the girl to her mother, Mrs. Bessie Rawley, said: "Nick is the cause of all this, for I love him and he doesn't love me." She adds the request to "bury me in white, with lilies on my breast."

The girl's father, John Rawley, is in the army.

WAR LOANS DENOUNCED

"Away With Hohenzollerns" One German Paper Says—"To Gallows With Guilty."

London, Oct. 23.—The German press generally considers the reply to President Wilson satisfactory and a good basis for further negotiations despite the fact that most of the papers are not quite sure what the first part of the note means, according to an exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen.

Geneva, Oct. 23.—Peace must not be delayed a single day on account of the Hohenzollerns if they are an obstacle to it, declares the Volks Freund, of Karlsruhe, which also is permitted to speak of the disappearance of the superstitious belief that the Emperor was chosen to rule by divine right.

The Schwabische Tagwacht says that everybody is now convinced the Allies will not accord Germany a cheap peace, "but if the glory and power of imperial Germany is the price, the German people are ready to pay."

In permitting such items to leave Germany the German censorship apparently is preparing public opinion for coming events.

Amsterdam, Oct. 23.—German provincial and socialist newspapers continue their campaign against the "chief culprits" responsible for the war. The Frankische Tagespost, of Nuremburg, the first paper in Germany to demand openly the abdication of the Emperor, declares that the accession of the Crown Prince is entirely out of the question.

"The German people are searching for the guilty," says the Volks Zeitung, the organ of the Nuremburg Socialists. The Pan-Germans and Junkers are silent today but we do not forget that they are the great war inciters in Germany, that they remain the support of social and political reaction and that they are a menace to the future healthy development of the German empire. The Pan-German policy has gone bankrupt but unfortunately it has led the German people to disaster

"To the gallows with the guilty, whoever they may be."

The Socilaist Arbeiter Zeitung, of Vienna, urges the German Socialists to punish the "chief culprits" without mercy, adding:

"When the German soldiers return home from the trenches after four years of unparallel suffering there will be a reckoning for the people who have led them to this catastrophe. The German people will sweep away the Junkers and take its destiny into its own hands."

ALEXANDRIA NATIONAL BANK

Makes Splendid Showing in Bond Drive—Sells Bonds to 1008 Persons.

The Alexandria National Bank made a splendid showing in the sale of Liberty Bonds as will be seen by their advertisement elsewhere. The apportionment for this bank was $80,000 and the total amount of subscriptions placed through that bank, including the subscription of the bank and its employes, was nearly $200,000. They sold to a total of 1008 subscribers. This bank, therefore sold $116,700 more than its allotment.

BOND SLACKER KILLS MAN

German Fires Into a Crowd That Storms Bakery and Three Fall.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 23.—Bernard Petrasko, aged 18, was killed and Paul Dunn and George Worms were wounded seriously as a result of a riot Saturday night in front of the business establishment of Charles Fischer, a German baker, at McKees Rocks, who became enraged when a mob entered his place and demanded that he purchase a Liberty Bond. He opened fire into the crowd with a revolver.

"Lynch him!" and "Down with the pro-German!" were cries sent up by the crowd, following the shooting. Police strategy prevented a lynching. The German was spirited out by a rear window and hurried to the county jail. He is charged with manslaughter.

According to the police, Fischer, who last spring was severely beaten by a mob as the result of his pro-German tendencies during a Red Cross campaign, refused to buy a bond when approached by the district committee and made insulting remarks about the Government. The news spread and a crowd assembled in front of the bakery, shouting, "Buy a bond!" The shooting followed.

WHEN WE GRANT PEACE

When we grant peace
It must be in the name
Of those dear dead who lie
Beneath the ashes of the battle-flame
Under yon alien sky.
When we grant peace,
It must be remembering,
Those who beneath the sea
Were sent down in utter bitter hate,
Denied all sympathy.
For these must come a crowning peace
or none.
A peace that shall make sure
That justice shall forever guide the world,
That Christian grace endure,
And that forever more
The vandal's power-to-war
Shall be down-hurled.

The above lines are suggestive, especially after we have scanned the mortuary lists from the old world, and the full fact is brought home to us that victory is attained at the loss of so many of our brave boys who are fighting the modern Minotaur in the old world.

The more we read and think the more we are inclined to vie with others in demanding an unconditional surrender of the enemy to Marshal Foch before an armistice is ordered.

The fiends who set the world afire, should not be allowed seats at the conference table. They should be in docks handcuffed and in positions to receive the just sentence of an outraged world.

Although beaten, these bloodthirsty bandits are as war-mad as ever. Should they escape the penalty of their deeds they have no intention of putting aside their uniforms nor sabres, but probably in the near future will again be in a position to renew their ruthless course. There is but one way to deal with the monsters—they must be stamped out.

There must be clean earth
For the feet of Peace,
Ere she shall come
With Spirit of lovely mirth
To bid the cannon cease!
Her sandals must not walk
In blood and mire again,
Nor through the idle talk
Of selfish men.

BOOTLEGGERS' TRAINS

Alexandrians who were in Baltimore yesterday tell of an order which the electric railway company has put in operation which excludes bootleggers leaving the depot. Those who now desire to bring liquor into Washington or Alexandria must take special trains at Pratt and Eutaw streets. Officials keep close surveilance over all passengers entering cars at the depot, and when it is found their pockets are loaded with bottled liquor or that they lift suit cases or satchels with difficulty they are told to take trains at Pratt and Eutaw streets, which leave at 11 a. m., noon, and 2 and 4 p. m. Several Alexandrians loaded down with "baggage" were denied admission to trains at the depot yesterday.

This action was taken to alleviate previous conditions and to make traveling more satisfactory to ladies many of whom had complained of the fact that heavy suit cases and satchels were often placed in the racks over their heads and that the jarring of the cars was liable to cause such receptacles to fall upon their heads. The space within the seats was often the repose of receptacles [illegible]. Aside from these annoyances the conversations carried on between bootleggers often rendered quiet passengers uncomfortable.

A SAD STORY

Mother, wife and child dead of influenza, one Washington army officer sails for France today, leaving his youngest child dying of the disease in the care of friends.

To a driver of one of the Public Health Service's ambulances, the young officer told his pitiful story yesterday, as the driver came to carry the dying baby to the friend's home.

Two weeks ago, his wife's mother was taken ill with influenza, and died a few days afterwards. Before the end of the week his own mother, his wife and oldest son had fallen victims to the disease, leaving the baby seriously ill. Monday, the young officer received his sailing orders to leave for an eastern port this morning.

THE WAVE OF DEMOCRACY

Independence Hall in Philadelphia will be the scene of a new declaration of independence this week, drafted by representatives of more than 65,000,000 people of Middle Europe. The conference, lasting October 25-26, will be under the chairmanship of Prof. Thomas G. Masaryk, chief of the Czecho-Slovak National Council, and as such head of that nation. Other nationalities to be represented are Bohemians, now united in the new Szecho-Slovak Republic; Jugoslays, Poles, Italians (Irredentist), Austrians, Ukranians, (Galicia), Lithuanians, members of the Rumanian National League and Uhro-Russians. It is intended to draft a joint delaration of independence on behalf of all.

When our forefathers gathered in Philadelphia in 1776 and proclaimed the declaration of Independence they planted an acorn from which has grown a mighty oak under the shade of which the oppressed of the old world are now about to gather.

THE U-BOAT FAILURE

It is suggested that when history sums up this war it will not be the ferocity of the German submarine campaign that will be remembered so much as its fatuity. National pride can survive a reputation of brutality, but it cannot so easily live down a reputation of colossal and abject failure.

The inability of the submarine to prevent the transportation of an American army to France will be remembered by the world long after specific atrocities are forgetten. The German submarine will take its place with the Spanish Armada and Napoleon's retreat from Russia as a symbol of ruthless and humiliating defeat of the pride and folly of imperial power. And such a defeat covers a Government with ridicule just in proportion to the magnitude of the attempt.

Germans have tried, they have boasted ,they have prophesied, and the American transports have sailed over the seas almost as if the U-boats were no more than the porpoises, which play beside the foaming vessels. And many of these ships that have sailed over again and again are the largest and finest of the Germans' own merchant marine. Irony heaped upon ridicule! That Germany should have built the mighty and indispensable fleet that should carry over her last and freshest hordes of enemies! History, to the eternal discomfiture of the German people, will fix in legend the fact that, while the great German ships were bearing an American army to France, the German submarine was engaged in sinking fishing smacks and coal barges off the coast of Massachusetts.

WAR RECOLLECTION

The Richmond Times-Dispatch in its clippings from its files of half a century ago today prints the following:

"The State Journal of Alexandria will be issued in this city next week as an afternoon paper of the strictest Republican type."

At intervals during the early part of the war between the states there was no paper in Alexandria. The plant of the Gazette had been destroyed by an incendiary fire during the early part of 1862, and "The Virginia Daily Chronicle," published by several northern men, had ceased to exist. About this time David Turner, an Englishman, who had been residing in the northern section of New York state, came here and took possession of the plant of the "Virginia Sentinel," which up to the outbreak of the war had been published by Smith Bros. He began to publish a diminutive sheet which he called "The Alexandria News." He operated a job printing office also, and being a union man, soon had more work than he could do. Turner sold his paper to W. J. Cowing and B. F. Gillis, who enlarged it and named the publication "The Virginia State Journal."

This paper proved a veritable gold mine from that time up to the close of the war. It was the official paper of the government, and printed all the advertisements of tax sales, bankruptcy notices, etc. The republican Congress, with a view to taking care of its own, published official proceedings of Congress in many cross-roads papers at that period, which was paid for at so much an inch. The Journal was one of the beneficiaries.

When the war closed Cowing and Gillis moved their office to the old Relief engine house on the north side of Prince street, near Royal. As the Times-Dispatch says, in 1868 the paper was removed to Richmond, when the late Judge Robert W. Hughes became its editor. Later, it will be remembered, the Judge and former Governor William E. Cameron fought a duel which was brought about by articles in the Journal and a Petersburg paper edited by Cameron .

DISINTEGRATING FORCES

H. Wickham Steed is a British writer who is a recognized authority on Austria-Hungary and the Balkan countries. Two years ago he made an address in King's College, London, one of the series of addresses in what is known in England as the "Fight for Right Movement," in concluding which he said:

The issue will have to be faced whether the Allies shall consent to deal with the present Government of Imperial Prussianized Germany or whether they should not rather insist upon dealing with the Governments of the various German States. Let us not forget that the German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles, and that it was fashioned by Bismarck under the influence of 1870-71 to be an instrument of Prussian militarism.

The suggestion is worth considering. It may have value. At the time it was thrown out there was no prospect of the end of the war. German power had not begun to wane; the United States had not become a belligerent, and neither Mr. George nor Mr .Wilson had expressed a reluctance to deal for peace with the Imperial German Government.

To offer peace to the individual German States would not be open to the objection that the Allies were trying to force a change of Government on the German people. These State Governments are in existence; they are immeasurably older than the Empire. The feeling of "particularism," or, as we should say, of State Rights, is by no means dead. It is possible that it might be effectively appealed to.

Bavaria, the large State after Prussia, and several other of the South German States are in the German Empire by compulsion. They fought with Austria against Prussia in 1866. They have always been more or less hostile to Prussia. The glamor of Prussian militarism, which overthrew France, gradually won their loyalty, if not their affection. The military prestige and the tremendous commercial growth of the German Empire silenced most, but not all, of the dislike for Prussia.

There is a tremendous demand for peace in Germany. The people have stood about all they can. But the Imperial Government is not willing to give up. If it shall attempt to hold the nation in the war for a fifth winter the discontent, which is little disguised now, will become violent. If, then, peace were offered to the several States a powerful disintegrating force would be set in operation.—(Philadelphia Record.)

RIOTING IN VIENNA.

London, Oct. 23.—Serious rioting has broken out in Vienna, said a Zurich dispatch to the Daily News today.

For some time the internal situation in Austria has been intense, and the demand for peace by the war-weary population has grown steadily stronger. The unrest in Bohemia is especially marked, and recently it was reported that the independent political chiefs in Bohemia had declared their independence.

VICTORY WITHIN REACH

King George Delivers Address at Buckingham Palace.

London, Oct. 23,—"Victory is within our reach, and we are all agreed that it must be a complete victory."

In these words King George on Monday addressed at Buckingham Palace the deputation of interparliamentary delegates, including delegates from Britain, France, Italy and Belgium. The king spoke in French. He continued, in part:

"I congratulate you, senators and deputies of Italy, on the prospect which opens before you of recovering regions guarded by Alpine snows.

"I congratulate you, senators and deputies of France, on the approaching restoration of the provinces torn from you forty-seven years ago. Many a war was waged in former centuries between our two nations. But there was always on both sides a spirit of chivalry which forbade bitterness, and when peace came it was made with a sense of mutual respect.

"And you also, sir, representatives of senators and deputies of Belgium, we rejoice to see you upon our soil. Your country, wickedly attacked and devasted, has had terrible suffering to undergo, but the day of your deliverance is at hand."

NEWS OF THE DAY

A Berlin dispatch late yesterday states that a neutral commission has gone to the front to investigate the charges of wanton destruction by the German armies. Germany, in her last reply to President Wilson, denied his charges of wanton destruction and suggested that a neutral commission be appointed to investigate the charges.

President Wilson last night conferred the distinguished service medal on Marshal Foch, Marshal Joffre, Marshal Haig, Gen. Petain, Gen. Diaz, Gen. Gillian and Gen. Pershing.

Reports received at the Washington health office show that fifty-nine persons died of influenza in the District of Columbia in the twenty-four hours ending at 9 o'clock last night. Though the decrease in the number of deaths indicates that the epidemic is loosing its hold on the city, local health officers believe that the danger point is not yet passed.

The Augsburger Abendzeitung of Berne says: "Germany and Austria are on the eve of a famine. Hungary has stopped the export of wheat. Bohemia refuses to raise wheat and Poland is cutting down its shipsments."

When the nations disarm, the United States navy is going to have something to disarm with. Secretary Daniels yesterday asked Congress for $600,000,000 for another three-year navy building program to produce sixteen more capital ships—ten battleships and six battle cruisers—and 140 smaller war craft.

In well informed political circles in London the opinion prevails that Germany will capitulate within ten weeks while Austria and Turkey will quit within two weeks. This was told the correspondent by a reliable authority last night. My informant further declared Germany was not expected to fight longer than three months. The German upper classes, he said, realize that the terms on which she can have peace now will be the same as later, while if Germany fought to the last ditch the whole German social structure would crumble. The common people on the other hand are crying: "For God's sake, stop the war on any conditions!"

Speaking in the British house of commons yesterday, James Thomas MacNamara, financial secretary of the admiralty, said there was good reason to believe that all German destroyers and torpedoboats which had their bases at Ostend and Zeebrugge have escaped to German ports. Every possible step was taken to intercept them, he said, but he added that, seeing their passage could be made at night, and that Dutch territorial waters could be used, there was no certainty that the measures taken would be successful.

All the American dead in France will be taken home after the war, according to orders received by the army chaplains. The grave registration bureau has been working with this in view.

The county board of health of Cumberland, Md., has ordered all saloons to close in the Georges Creek mining region at 6 o'clock each evening until further notice. The fuel administration has sent out notices frowning upon the use of whisky as a preventive of influenza, claiming it not only increases pneumonia, but that also it tends to reduce coal production.

There have been severe earthquakes in Guatemala and 100 persons are dead, according to reports received at Panama from Guatemala. Much property damage also has been caused.

Cardinal Hartman, archbishop of Cologne, has issued a pastoral letter in which he says dark hours have come for Germany, threatened by an enemy superior in numbers, and shaken to the foundations of the state by internal changes. He calls upon his people to offer public prayers. Deep discontent is spreading everywhere among the German people, the cardinal writes, and they not only give expression to their state of mind by what they say, but write disheartening letters to the men at the front, impairing their courage and power of resistance. The cardinal invites all Catholics to rally around the emperor. In all Protestant churches of Prussia public prayers have been ordered for the protection of Germany from the misfortunes which threaten her.

HUNGARY WILL ASK PEACE, FOE THINKS

Amsterdam, Oct. 23.—With Hungary about to become a separate state a separate peace between Hungary and the allies is predicted by the German press.

While Berlin Talks of Commission, Paris Flies "No Respite"

London, Oct. 23.—Viscount Northcliffe yesterday urged a general agreement between all allies and America on a list of irreducible terms to which Germany must submit unconditionally. He proposed the following principal conditions.

1. Complete restoration of Belgium.
2. Full restoration and reparation in France.
3. Return of Alsace-Lorraine to France.
4. A readjustment of the Italo-Austrian frontier "such as will not leave a malignant foe lurking at the gates."
5. Restoration and indemnification of Serbia, Montenegro and Rumania.

With regard to Anstria-Hungary, Viscount Northcliffe said that President Wilson's answer to that country's government pointed the way.

14 SHIPS DELIVERED

Fourteen steel and wood vessels of 77,150 deadweight tons were delivered to the Shipping Board during the week ending October 18. Nine of 59,150 deadweight tons were steel and five of 18,000 tons were wood. A record for fast construction marked the delivery of the 11,800-ton steel freighter Invincible, completed at the Bethlehem plant at Alameda, Cal., in 105 days.

SOUSA'S EAR INFECTED

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Lieut. John Phillip Sousa, director of the Great Lakes Naval Band, is undergoing treatment here for a slight infection of the right ear, which developed while he was on tour with the band during the Fourth Liberty Loan drive.

PULASKI HARD HIT.

Sixty Deaths Reported—Physicians Needed.

Bristol, Va., Oct. 23.—Although the crest of the influenza epidemic is believed to have been reached here, deaths are still occurring at the rate of four and five a day. About 45 deaths have occurred in Bristol since the outbreak of the malady. All schools, churches, theatres and other public meeting places continue to remain closed and will not be opened until the influenza abates.

Pulaski, Saltville, Wytheville, and a number of other towns in Southwest Virginia, have suffered heavily from influenza. Sixty deaths have been reported in the town of Pulaski, which only has a population of 6,000. Saltville has buried more than 40 of her dead. The high death rate in these small towns is thought to have resulted from the lack of physicians. Calls were made here for doctors, but owing to the ravages of the malady, only one or two could be sent.

DOUBT DISAPPEARS

No One In Alexandria Who Has a Bad Back Should Ignore This Double Proof.

Does your back ever ache?
Have you suspected your kidneys?

Distressing urinary disorders.
Doan's Kidney Pills have been endorsed by thousands.

Renewed testimony; tested by time. H. C. Smith, tailor, 919 1-2 King street, says: "I can't begin to describe the agony I suffered with my back. I tried other medicines, but nothing helped me until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me in less than a month and today I am as free from backache as if I never had it."

Over four years later Mr. Smith said: "I still consider Doan's Kidney Pills fine for kidney trouble. I never hesitate to recommend them."
